

National Science Day

National Science Day is celebrated on 28th February in India to honour C. V. Raman and his discovery of the Raman Effect. It aims to promote science, innovation, and research among students. Schools organize activities to encourage curiosity and scientific thinking.

Science Fair in the Wisdom School on National Science Day

A Science Fair is organized on National Science Day to showcase students' experiments, models, and projects. It helps students develop creativity, problem-solving skills, and teamwork. Teachers and students come together to explore and appreciate science in daily life.
